THE ANGLICAN CHURCH OF SOUTHERN AFRICA

PREFACE

An agreement was signed in 1937 between the Church of the Province of South Africa - now known as the Anglican Church of Southern Africa (ACSA) - and the University of the Witwatersrand, whereby the church's Central Record Library was placed on loan with the University. The library consisted of books, pamphlets, periodicals and manuscripts. This Guide only contains the descriptions of the manuscript material (covering the period between 1835 to the present). The other categories are listed separately.

The Anglican manuscripts were initially described in Section 2 of the University Library's Guide to the Archives and Papers which ran through three editions between 1967-1975 and a Cumulative Supplement 1975-1979. With the growth of the church's collection of manuscripts, it became more manageable to publish a separate guide to it. This edition of the Guide to the Archives of the Anglican Church of Southern Africa lists all Anglican Church collections described in previous guides, together with all accessions between 2000 and 2009.

Arrangement of the entries is by accession order to facilitate future updatings of the Guide. The missing numbers in the numerical sequence relate to general (not Anglican Church) collections which are described in the Guide to the Archives and Papers, 12th edition, 2010.

The manuscripts comprise letters, diaries, minutes, memoranda, press clippings, scrap-books, registers, financial, ecclesiastical and personal documents and pictorial material. Entries are under the name of a person or organisation or the first word of a title or subject. For persons, a brief biographical note has been supplied with dates of birth and death, where these could be ascertained. Other information includes the type of material, inclusive dates, the extent of an item or collection, names of chief correspondents, important subjects covered, any restrictions on use and the existence of an inventory or calendar.

The richness of the Anglican Church's manuscript collection is due to the efforts of the provincial archivists appointed by the church to collect material and transfer it to the University. The first, 1937-1957, was the late Father Osmund Victor. The second, 1958-1979, was the late Canon Cecil Thomas Wood, and he was followed by Mrs A.R. Kotze, 1979-2000. Carol Archibald was appointed as Provincial Archivist in 2001. The enthusiasm of the archivists and the close liaison between them and the University has resulted in the building up of an extremely large and comprehensive collection illustrating the work and history of the Anglican Church in Southern Africa, covering not only South Africa but also Mozambique, Namibia, Botswana, Lesotho, Swaziland, Zimbabwe and St. Helena.
