

HISTORICAL PAPERS RESEARCH ARCHIVE AND WITS DIGITISATION CENTRE UNIVERSITY LIBRARIES

RIGHTS AND REPRODUCTION GUIDELINES

In general, the Library will consider requests for limited reproduction of material held by the Library for the purpose of research, teaching, learning, exhibition, or publication, provided that such duplication can be done without injury to the materials and when duplication does not violate confidentiality, donor agreements or copyright restrictions.

The Library has the right to grant permission for the reproduction of items from its collections, and to charge reproduction fees, processing fees, handling fees and royalties, where appropriate.

We ask that all fees be paid in advance of processing orders. Orders are filled on a first-paid, first-processed basis; unfortunately, we are not able to accommodate rush orders. We reserve the right not to process orders for researchers with outstanding or unpaid balances at the Library or any other Wits facility.

Reproduction fees vary according to the purpose for which items are to be used, and may be altered or waived at the discretion of the Library. Fees may be modified if the image is used for non-commercial purposes. However, even if the reproduction fees are adjusted, the processing costs will still apply.

To receive reproductions of copyrighted materials, you may first need to seek written permission from the copyright holder. In some cases, staff can provide you with contact information for copyright holders represented in our materials. However, please know that you assume all responsibility for ensuring that copyright is protected and that all necessary permissions are secured in writing prior to publishing or distributing materials from our holdings. You must supply written proof that you have obtained copyright permission from the copyright holder before reproduction and digitisation can take place.

Permission to reproduce and/or publish, when granted, is for one-time only, non-exclusive use in one publication or production (book, periodical, TV production, website, etc.) Later or different use, including subsequent editions, reprints, or any other reproduction by photographic or electronic means constitutes re-use. Permission must be separately negotiated for re-use and may require additional fees. These reproductions may not be made for, or donated to, other repositories or further reproduced without prior written permission from the Library and/or the copyright holder.

All reproductions must be accompanied by ownership credit as well as the correct citation. The following acknowledgment/credit must be used: "Reproduced with permission courtesy of [name of specific collection], Historical Papers Research Archive, the Library, University of the Witwatersrand, Johannesburg".

Materials will be processed and permission for use will be granted only upon receipt of completed forms, copyright compliance and payment in full.

The relevant reproductions application form must be completed.

The Library would appreciate receiving copies of any magazines, books, films, articles or exhibit catalogues using items from its collections.

In the interests of preservation, fragile documents may not be digitised or copied.

Cropping or enhancement of images requires the Archivist's approval and must be cited as "cropped image".

Using cameras in the Reading Room

The use of cameras (e.g. digital) by researchers to make copies of archival records is permitted. The service relates to the use of cameras only. You may not use any device which comes into contact with the record, such as a flatbed scanner or hand held scanner that is moved across the face of documents.

You may not:

- use a tripod or photographic flash
- disturb other researchers
- damage records or treat records in a way likely to result in damage
- use the camera in areas other than the area designated for photography
- photograph records except for the purposes of research or study
- further reproduce or publish material that is still in copyright unless you have the permission of the copyright holder.