

15. May 1916.

Dear Mamie.

After sending my letter yesterday, when I got back home your letter & Hilda's were waiting. I am glad to hear you are all well, and also very glad to hear that the children are trying their best to justify the efforts we are making to provide them with the knowledge necessary for them. I am all aware of the strike from the newspapers. If you can send me a few newspapers, such as the "British Worker" during the strike & after I shall be pleased. The weather here up till yesterday was not at all nice, rather cold, but this morning it seems as the summer is anxious to make up for lost time. The sun shines gloriously, and it is beginning to be warm. I am keeping well & trying very hard to pull up in knowledge, so as to have a sufficient reserve en par with others who were here all the time. This is important for me as well as for all of us.

Now as I said all I wanted to say in my last letter, and I see I shall not be able to write much longer on acct. of interruptions, so I will close. Hoping you will keep up in spirit and will not worry about what will be in time to come. With best wishes

Love to you & children
as ever Sam.

P.S. I am sending you a few Snaps

Dear Mamie.

After sending my letter yesterday, when I got back your letter & Hildas were waiting. I am glad to hear you are all well and also very glad to hear that the children are trying their best to justify the efforts we are making to provide them with the knowledge necessary for them. I am all aware of the strike from the newspapers. If you can send me a few newspapers, such as the "British Worker" during the strike & after I shall be pleased. The weather here up till yesterday was not at all nice, rather cold, but this morning it seems as the summer is anxious to make up for lost time. The sun shines gloriously, and it is beginning to be warm. I am keeping well & trying very hard to pull up in knowledge, so as to have a sufficient reserve en par with others who were here all the time. This is important for me as well as for all of us. Now as I said all I wanted to say in my last letter, and I see I shall not be able to write much longer on a/c. of interruptions, so I will cease. Hoping you will keep up in spirit and will not worry about what will be in time to come. With best wishes.

Love to you & children

as ever Sam

P.S. I am sending you a few snaps
